

I feel this proposal holds no merit and can do nothing to enhance the amateur radio service. The requirements are sufficiently simple enough as they exist. This appears to be another ARRL ploy to water down the hobby I do not think things can be much easier other than just granting licenses to anyone as was done on the 11 meter band!